-- The MAILING DATE of this communication appears on the cover sheet with the correspondence address --
Period for Reply

A SHORTENED STATUTORY PERIOD FOR REPLY IS SET TO EXPIRE 3 MONTH(S) FROM THE MAILING DATE OF THIS COMMUNICATION.

- Extensions of time may be available under the provisions of 37 CFR 1.136(a). In no event, however, may a reply be timely filed after SIX (6) MONTHS from the mailing date of this communication.
- If the period for reply specified above is less than thirty (30) days, a reply within the statutory minimum of thirty (30) days will be considered timely.
- If NO period for reply is specified above, the maximum statutory period will apply and will expire SIX (6) MONTHS from the mailing date of this communication.
- Failure to reply within the set or extended period for reply will, by statute, cause the application to become ABANDONED (35 U.S.C. § 133). Any reply received by the Office later than three months after the mailing date of this communication, even if timely filed, may reduce any earned patent term adjustment. See 37 CFR 1.704(b).

Status

- 1) ☒ Responsive to communication(s) filed on 03 June 2004.
- 2a) ☒ This action is FINAL. 2b) ☐ This action is non-final.
- 3) ☐ Since this application is in condition for allowance except for formal matters, prosecution as to the merits is closed in accordance with the practice under Ex parte Quayle, 1935 C.D. 11, 453 O.G. 213.

Disposition of Claims

- 4) ☒ Claim(s) 1-6 is/are pending in the application.
- 4a) Of the above claim(s) _____ is/are withdrawn from consideration.
- 5) ☐ Claim(s) _____ is/are allowed.
- 6) ☒ Claim(s) 1-6 is/are rejected.

DETAILED ACTION

Double Patenting

1. The nonstatutory double patenting rejection is based on a judicially created doctrine grounded in public policy (a policy reflected in the statute) so as to prevent the unjustified or improper timewise extension of the "right to exclude" granted by a patent and to prevent possible harassment by multiple assignees. See In re Goodman, 11 F.3d 1046, 29 USPQ2d 2010 (Fed. Cir. 1993); In re Longi, 759 F.2d 887, 225 USPQ 645 (Fed. Cir. 1985); In re Van Ornum, 686 F.2d 937, 214 USPQ 761 (CCPA 1982); In re Vogel, 422 F.2d 438, 164 USPQ 619 (CCPA 1970); and, In re Thorington, 418 F.2d 528, 163 USPQ 644 (CCPA 1969).

A timely filed terminal disclaimer in compliance with 37 CFR 1.321(c) may be used to overcome an actual or provisional rejection based on a nonstatutory double patenting ground provided the conflicting application or patent is shown to be commonly owned with this application. See 37 CFR 1.130(b).

Effective January 1, 1994, a registered attorney or agent of record may sign a terminal disclaimer. A terminal disclaimer signed by the assignee must fully comply with 37 CFR 3.73(b).

2. Claims 1-6 are rejected under the judicially created doctrine of obviousness-type double patenting as being unpatentable over claims 1-8 of U.S. Pat. No. 6,730,340.

Although the conflicting claims are not identical, they are not patentably distinct from each other because claims 3-5 of the instant application require gums.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

3. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

4. Claims 1-3 and 5 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Ninomiya et al [Pat. No. 5,620,757].

Art Unit: 1761

Ninomiya et al teach an edible film comprising a mixture of polysaccharides comprising carrageenan, starches, tara gum, and locust bean gum (column 3, line 59 to column 4, line 37), carrageenan making up at least 10% of the film on a dry weight basis (column 4, lines 21 & 51), the other polysaccharides such as starch, tara gum, and locust bean gum making up less than 40% of the film on a dry weight basis (column 4, lines 21 & 51), a polyhydric alcohol in the form of glycerol (column 5, line 2), the amount of glycerol being at least 5% of the film on a dry weight basis (column 5, line 9; column 4, line 51), and less than 25% water (column 5, line 63).

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

5. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

6. Claims 4 and 6 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Ninomiya et al as applied above, in view of Meyers [Pat. No. 5,376,388].

Ninomiya et al teach the above mentioned components as well as coloring (column 4, line 55). Ninomiya et al do not recite hypoallergenic, high amylose starch, or cellulose components, or insoluble gums, or fibrous vegetable material, or glucans. Meyers teaches an edible film comprising cellulose derivatives (column 5, line 8), various gums (column 5, lines 12-15), glycerol (column 6, line 53), and high amylose starch (column 6, line 68). It would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art to incorporate the high amylose starch of Mayers into the invention of Ninomiya et al since both are directed to edible films, since Ninomiya et al already included starch in general (column 3, line 66), and since Mayers teach that high amylose starch was commonly used in edible films. It would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art to hypoallergenic materials in the invention of Ninomiya et al since this would have greatly reduced the chances of consumers having allergic reactions to the food and since this was commonly done in the food industry.

Response to Arguments

7. Applicant's arguments filed June 3, 2004 have been fully considered but they are not persuasive.

Applicant argues that Ninomiya et al do not teach a water-insoluble edible carbohydrate. However, Ninomiya et al clearly recite the use of starch which is a water-insoluble edible carbohydrate (column 3, line 59 to column 4, line 37).

Conclusion

8. THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the mailing date of this final action.
